Re: Irradiated Foods Notice

Dear Commissioner Henney:

I want you to know of my strong belief that consumers must be able to choose whether they buy and consume products that have been irradiated. To be able to make that choice, we need to be able to identify irradiated foods at the supermarket and in restaurants. Irradiated foods need to carry a prominent notice, preferably on the front of the package, in easy-to-read type.

Thank you.

Yours sincerely,
